American Football gloves

DISCRIPTION :-

Palm: Features a tacky material, typically a silicone or polymer-based coating on a synthetic leather or rubber base, to maximize ball adhesion in various weather conditions.

Backhand: Primarily uses breathable and stretchable fabrics like spandex, nylon, or mesh to provide ventilation, moisture management, and a snug fit.

Padding: EVA foam or gel inserts are strategically placed on the knuckles, back of the hand, and sometimes the palm (especially for lineman gloves) to absorb impact.

Wrist Closure: Often involves a combination of neoprene cuffs and adjustable hook-and-loop (Velcro) straps for a secure and customized fit.

Reinforcements: Areas subject to high wear, such as the fingertips or palm base, may have reinforced stitching or abrasion-resistant overlays to enhance durability
